Directions: Read Article V of the Constitution, The Amending Process and answer the following questions.

1. What are the two methods in Article V of proposing constitutional amendments?

   a.

   b.

2. What are the two methods in Article V of ratifying constitutional amendments?

   a.

   b.

3. What is the role of the president in amending the Constitution?

4. What is the role of the Supreme Court in amending the Constitution?

5. What is the role of the state in amending the Constitution? This is an example of what constitutional principle?
Directions: Review the amendments made to the Constitution. Place the letter of the group of amendments that most closely matches the purposes listed. Amendments can be classified into seven groups by function or purpose. These groups are:

I. Those amendments that add power to the national government
II. Those amendments that deny power to the national government
III. Those amendments that limit the power of state governments
IV. Those amendments that expand the electorate
V. Those amendments that reduce the power of the electorate
VI. Those amendments that make changes in the machinery of the Government
VII. Those amendments that protect the rights of the individual

Read and study the content of the amendments as grouped below. Then match the amendments as grouped with the seven classifications listed above.

A. Amendments 15, 17, 19, 23, 24, & 26
B. Amendments 3, 4, 5, 8, 10, 11, & 21
C. Amendment 22
D. Amendments 16 & 18
E. Amendments 12, 20, & 25
F. Amendments 1, 2, 6, 7, & 9
G. Amendments 13 & 14

I. _______ \hspace{1cm} V. _______

II. _______ \hspace{1cm} VI. _______

III. _______ \hspace{1cm} VII. _______

IV. _______
Directions: Read Article V of the Constitution, The Amending Process and answer the following questions.

1. What are the two methods in Article V of proposing constitutional amendments?
   a. proposed by a two-thirds vote of Congress
   b. Two-thirds of state legislatures call for a convention for the purposes of proposing amendments. Congress is to then call the convention.

2. What are the two methods in Article V of ratifying constitutional amendments?
   a. ratified by a vote of three-fourths of the state legislatures or
   b. ratified by three-fourths of state conventions called for the purpose of ratification

3. What is the role of the president in amending the Constitution?
   NONE

4. What is the role of the Supreme Court in amending the Constitution?
   NONE. However, it is possible for a case to arise from this process. Example: had the equal rights amendment been ratified there would have been a procedural appeal based on the time extension granted by
5. What is the role of the state in amending the Constitution? This is an example of what constitutional principle?

States play an equal role in the amendment process. Demonstrates the constitutional principle of federalism.

Directions: Review the amendments made to the Constitution. Place the letter of the group of amendments that most closely matches the purposes listed. Amendments can be classified into seven groups by function or purpose. These groups are:

I. Those amendments that add power to the national government
II. Those amendments that deny power to the national government
III. Those amendments that limit the power of state governments
IV. Those amendments that expand the electorate
V. Those amendments that reduce the power of the electorate
VI. Those amendments that make changes in the machinery of the Government
VII. Those amendments that protect the rights of the individual

Read and study the content of the amendments as grouped below. Then match the amendments as grouped with the seven classifications listed above.

A. Amendments 15, 17, 19, 23, 24, & 26
B. Amendments 3, 4, 5, 8, 10, 11, & 21
C. Amendment 22
D. Amendments 16 & 18
E. Amendments 12, 20, & 25
F. Amendments 1, 2, 6, 7, & 9
G. Amendments 13 & 14

I.  __D_____  V.  __C_____
II.  __B_____  VI.  __E_____
III.  __G_____  VII.  __F_____
IV.  __A_____